A major innovation was Don Daber's 1961 creation of Green Capsule Comments (GCC). (After the 1976 merger GCC was renamed Gold Capsule Comments). This innovative newsletter became the cornerstone of the Optimists' championship calibre communications and was published regularly until 1978 when the Optimists disbanded.

Today we have a new organization with links to the past and a vision of the future. We proudly represent the best of Canadian drum corps with members from the Toronto Optimists, the Seneca Optimists and over 40 different Canadian drum corps! GCC has been revived as a vehicle to communicate with both our immediate and our extended family. Within our quarterly publication you'll find "something old, something new, something borrowed, and something ah, green and gold?"
